An 18th century Chateau in Provence, offering the indulgent comforts of the finest luxury hotel coupled with the tender charm of a family home, welcomes guests into a private world of slow luxury.

Estoublon is its own country

Three days, eight days, one month...

Here, the Provence of Cézanne, Matisse and Picasso becomes yours.

A sanctuary where days unfold under the arc of a sun that lights and warms a land of abundant beauty.

Estoublon is your kingdom

Your first glimpse of the Château will come at the end of its long ancient pines alley. There it is, waiting, standing immaculately dressed in white stone from Les Baux-de-Provence.

Estoublon, more than a luxury hotel

Make a wish, and we'll do all we can to make it come true at Château d'Estoublon. Whether you dream of an intimate wedding, a fairy tale celebration, a sumptuous reception, an unforgettably unique honeymoon or a private family holiday cocooned a world away from the humdrum glitz of the everyday, or a special summit with colleagues and clients.

“Luxury is exquisite, exclusive and unapologetically slow, created for all those who appreciate, and expect nothing less”

Everything is possible within the walls of this privately-owned Provençal Château that is so much more than a luxury hotel. A magnificent family home since 1731, Château d'Estoublon is unique: a place where the joie de vivre of day-to-day life plays out across the château's grand interiors (1.500 m²), set among 500 spell-binding acres of vines, olive groves, woods and parkland.

French Art de Vivre

Chateau d'Estoublon reinvents the French way of life, its sumptuous interiors offering a stunning contemporary reinterpretation of luxury.

Every morning...

French, English, Oriental or Russian: between the walls of a private Château, breakfast by candlelight adapts itself to the customs of all its guests.

An English bar

Plush red velvet and tassels, matte black bar top and English club chairs. This bar is just for you and your invited guests: family, friends, children, with perhaps a butler or a wine waiter, all overlooked by an unknown beauty from Arles on the wall, painted by a 19th C artist. Enjoy it as you please.

This bar belongs to you.

The tender warmth of a Family Home

Somewhere between tenderness and the indulgence of every whim, between poetic licence and the quest for perfection, Château d'Estoublon spreads its wings over 1.500 m² and two stories, connected by elevator. Twenty-two rooms of which ten are bedrooms and suites, each one different from the other.

Chateau Life

There is always a Grand Salon in a grand Family Home. This one has French windows opening onto a terrace overlooking a bed of multicoloured roses. Some people play Bridge here, others tell each other stories while watching the flames dance in the fireplace.

La Roseraie

The original Hungarian point parquet flooring harmonizes with the Braquenié drapes inspired by 18th C. embroidered silks.

A writing desk in dark wood awaits only pen and paper and the inspiration of the writer who sits there.

Living like royalty & in tune with the times

On the second floor, on either side of the hallway, two intimate sanctuaries juggle adroitly between life in the 18th and 21st centuries, in a more contemporary setting.

La Cavalière

Room with lounge area and fireplace, King-size bed, dressing room. Large walk-in shower and bath. (62 m²).

Serene and luminous, this room with a lounge area features embroidered Colefax and Fowler drapes.

It harks back to its owner's passion for horses.

L'Horloger

Room with lounge area and fireplace, Queen-size bed, dressing area, bathroom with shower-bath (47 m²).
The Watchmaker's room with lounge area overlooks the park and calls to mind how Ernest Schneider, head of Breitling, fell in love at first sight with Château d'Estoublon, which he bought just before the new millennium.

La Chasse

Room with lounge area, Queen-size bed, dressing area. Large walk-in marble shower (45 m²). Suitable for people with reduced mobility. La Suite Familiale

The parent's room: Queen-size bed, shower and clawfoot bathtub, large dressing room, fireplace (43 m²).
In the parent's room, the engravings of palmtrees are reminders of the trips taken by Estoublon's owners. The bathroom is installed in one of the Château towers, with the floor tiled with traditional hexagonal Provencal tommettes of a beautiful brick-red colour.

In the children's room, two twin beds or one Queen-size bed (20 m²). Large portraits of hunting dogs, a rocking bear and Harlequins playing on the little desk.
